

Person Specification

This form lists the essential and desirable requirements needed in order to do the job.

Applicants will be shortlisted solely on the extent to which they meet these requirements.

Job title: Lecturer in Philosophy	Ref no.: 1294592
Department/Division: Department of Philosophy, Logic and Scientific Method
Accountable to: Head of Department

Criteria	Evidence	E/D
Excellence in Research	1. A relevant PhD (completed or near completion)  2. A record of research with either publications in leading peer-reviewed journals or, in the case of early career candidates, a developing record of research with clear potential for publication in leading journals.  3. Writing samples	E
Excellent teaching skills	Relevant teaching experience; presentation to the department.	E
Ability and willingness to work as part of a team in assisting in the smooth running of the Department	Testimony of referees	E
Research interests that fit with the brand of analytic philosophy that is informed by the natural and/or the social sciences for which the Department is noted	Research statement; writing samples	E
Research work can be expected to offer research synergies with existing members of the Department	Research statement	E
Good communication skills	Clear and concise presentation to the Department	E
Expertise in philosophy of economics, philosophy of science or social science, philosophy of biology, or philosophy of cognitive science	Research and/or teaching record in these fields.	D
Ability to attract research funding	Track record of securing research funding	D
Ability to contribute to the teaching of courses currently run by the Department	A record of either research or teaching in the area	D

THE LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND POLITICAL SCIENCE ■

E – Essential: Requirements without which the job could not be done.

D – Desirable: Requirements that would enable the candidate to perform the job well.