

SELECTION CRITERIA

LECTURER IN EAST ASIAN BUDDHISM STUDIES

Essential:

- PhD qualified in Buddhist Studies with a specialisation in Chinese Buddhism, though other areas of East Asian Buddhism are welcome
- Ability to teach into language and non-language programs, that is, Classical and/or Buddhist Chinese and Chinese Buddhist thought and practice
- Experience in, and commitment to, teaching using Chinese language materials (and ideally, Sanskrit, Pali and Tibetan materials)
- Experience in taking responsibility for and coordinating units of study in Chinese and Buddhist studies and a willingness to engage in group/collaborative teaching
- A proven research and publication record in the field of Chinese Buddhism
- Capacity to teach and supervise students from various cultural backgrounds
- Ability and willingness to contribute to School and Faculty administrative activities