

SELECTION CRITERIA

POSITION: Lecturer in Econometrics (Academic Level B)

Essential:

- A completed or near complete PhD in Economics/Econometrics
- Research interests at the highest level in econometrics (broadly defined to include all subfields of both time series and microeconometrics)
- Evidence of teaching experience
- A promising research trajectory with future potential to publish in leading economics journals and attract competitive research funding
- Evidence of successful teamwork experience and a collegial approach to working with others

Desirable:

- Evidence of publications in leading international journals
- Evidence of contributions and achievements to a university, discipline and the profession