The University of the West of Scotland welcomes and recognises the benefits of a diverse workforce and is committed to ensuring equality of opportunity in all its policies, procedures and activities. The University is committed to equality of opportunity irrespective of gender, age, disability, race, colour, nationality, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, religion or belief, or any other ground not relevant to good employment practice.

We monitor all key stages of the recruitment and selection process and at this stage applicants are asked to provide data on gender, age, ethnic origin and disability. Under the Public Sector Equality Duties to promote equality and eliminate discrimination we are required to monitor and publish data on recruitment by ethnicity, gender and disability of applicants. This information will assist the University to identify and take action on any areas of potential disadvantage.

We are also interested in collecting data on the caring responsibilities of potential applicants and employees in order to review and inform our Family Friendly Policies. Your co-operation in collecting this information is appreciated.

Please be assured that all information provided is confidential. It will be kept separate from your application form and will not be made available to those involved in the interviewing and selection process. In addition, it will be held and processed in accordance with current data protection legislation.

SECTION 3 – DISABILITY

The University is committed to understanding and addressing the different barriers faced by disabled people. Many people who do not consider themselves to be disabled may also be covered by the Disability Discrimination legislation because they have a health condition that has an impact on their lives.

The Disability Discrimination Act (1995) defines a disability as any physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long term effect on a person’s ability to carry out normal day to day activities. Long term in this context is taken to mean of 12 month’s duration.

If you have a disability or a health condition you are entitled in law to ‘reasonable adjustments’ to address support needs in the workplace. Some examples are:

* Hearing, speech or visual impairments, * Co-ordination, dexterity or mobility, * Mental health/learning disabilities, * Other medical conditions (e.g. diabetes, epilepsy, arthritis, asthma, heart disease), * Progressive illnesses (e.g. MS, Muscular Dystrophy, Cancer, Parkinson’s disease).
